

We will juggle somewhere around the Seawalk Pavilion- look for our banner.

I will arrive around 8:30am and have the banner up no later than 9:00am and I will stay till 2:30-3:00pm (I will park in the Pier Lot).

Note that the Pier Parking Lot will probably be cutoff around 10:00am (I'm not sure if they'll let traffic cross the race course even when there are big gaps between runners), but the Latham Plaza Lot should stay accessible throughout the day.

You will have to cross the race course to get to the Seawalk Pavilion area, but there should be plenty of gaps to allow you to pass through. Bring your gear with you.

The top runners will complete the entire full marathon in just over 2 hours. The slowest runners will be allowed about 7 hours to finish. That means the even the slowest runners will be passing our location (on the 1st Street side) by around 2:00-2:30pm.

It should be a beautiful sunny day, temps starting in the upper 50's and going up to the mid 70's by the end.

-See you there! -Jay
